

Did you know... About your Animache Chalk dinosaurs?

It can bite through solid bone, but was it covered in scales or feathers?

The Tyrannosaurus (commonly known as the T Rex) was a fierce predator and archaeologists believe it may have had feathers rather than reptile skin. Although a large dinosaur, its arms were only about 1 metre long and its hands boasted a mere 2 fingers!

If its head is 3 meters long, how big is its body?

The Triceratops hatched from eggs and boasted a 3 meter long head that was 1/3 of its body size! This 9 meters long dinosaur had a beak like a parrot and rather than claws they had hoofs.

They both lived in the late cretaceous period (called "chalk" period).
